

Quality policy

IPCO is a global industrial process company developing customized solutions to drive customer productivity. IPCO has developed its expertise since our establishment and our aim is to achieve a high standard of products, solutions and service to its customers.

It is the policy of IPCO to provide the customer with goods and services to at least agreed requirement in accordance with the acknowledged order details and price. We are committed to achieve customer satisfaction by using robust quality procedures to meet or exceed the expectations of the customer.

IPCO has a thorough conviction that quality is everybody's responsibility. "Right from me" is the guiding principle for all IPCO employees. A culture of continuous improvements is ensured through the dedication of our employees, established standards and measurements.

Sandviken, August 2018

Henrik Furhoff

President & CEO, IPCO AB